

Academic Surgical Pathologist Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

The Department of Pathology at the University of California, San Diego (<http://pathology.ucsd.edu>) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body and is seeking academic surgical pathologists to join its Division of Anatomic Pathology at the Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor level.

The successful candidates will have clinical responsibilities for specimens generated from multiple clinical programs within the UC San Diego Health clinical facilities, as well as our referral/outreach/consultation programs and an expanding clinical integration network.

The successful candidates will attend and sign-out on the multiple clinical subspecialty services within the Anatomic Pathology Division. The teaching of medical students, residents, and fellows is also expected.

Candidates must have an MD or equivalent, DO, or MD/PhD in pathology or related fields. Candidates must have or be eligible for a California medical license or equivalent certification/permit as determined by the Medical Board of California. Candidates must be board certified or board eligible in Anatomic or Anatomic/Clinical Pathology by the American Board of Pathology.

Candidates must have completed fellowship training in a Subspecialty of Surgical Pathology (such as Breast, Head and Neck, Cardiac/Thoracic, Gastrointestinal, Genitourinary, or Gynecologic Pathology) by the start of the appointment.

Candidates with a minimum of 3 years of sign-out experience in a subspecialty area of surgical pathology within a subspecialized sign out system are preferred.
